

Helping Matheson Trucking Deliver

Failure is not an option for Matheson Trucking. As one of the top 10 largest contract carriers for the United States Postal Service, Matheson Trucking depends on Valvoline's™ full portfolio of heavy duty products to keep its 276 trucks on the road.

Valvoline™ Premium Blue's™ extended drain intervals and fuel saving features allow Matheson Trucking to control cost and reduce environmental waste. With trucks reaching more than 250,000 miles in a year, and many trucks showing over two million miles and still going strong, Valvoline helps keep Matheson's fleet on the road longer, making sure America's mail is delivered on-time, from coast to coast.

If your business has the need for fleet reliability and you take conservation of resources seriously, partnering with Valvoline for your lubricant products may be your best strategy for being both dependable and green. Just like Matheson.

"We take pride in the fact that our service delivers at a 99% on-time performance level. Valvoline ensures that we never compromise that dependability while allowing Matheson to continue our mission to reduce emissions, aggressively pursuing our green initiative and reducing costs in the long run."
